

We have seen consistent improvement since my son, Cooper, who is 22, started on Double Helix Water almost two years ago. But since the more intensive autism protocol, the improvement has increased dramatically! His autistic symptoms are improving rapidly. Also, he had four warts on his hands, and had had ingrown toenails for years. Within the eight day start on four bottles per day, his warts disappeared. His toenails are significantly improved. He has had seizures since he was 12, which had leveled out at roughly one per month, with varying short-lived improvement using different orthomolecular approaches over the years, as well as meditation and yoga. I am a homeopath, and do not generally suppress symptoms of disease, which is what seizures are. So, Cooper has never been medicated for his seizures. After starting the autism protocol (which we followed as I did not have the seizure protocol from you folks yet), he had two seizures a week apart, with the second one being atypical for him--sorter in duration and intensity, and he was uncharacteristically lucid in his post-ictal state. That was over 6 weeks ago, and he has not seized since. It is too soon to tell for sure, but we feel his seizures may be behind him. He has told me that the Double Helix Water, "made his seizures go away".

We are thrilled, and I would very much appreciate passing our thanks on to anyone who deserves it down there.

Sincerely,
LH
