

A few notes about using the Rejuvenate Oil Product

The quickest result you will see after using the product is the smaller amount of hair in the shower or sink grate. This usually happens right away as in a day or two. Hair regrowth is harder to see of course than seeing less hair in the sink or shower. For me my barber was the first to announce that there were a large amount of regrowth where the hair was thinner. She was really surprised at the huge number of 1/8" hair regrowth between established hair. Needless to say the product got her attention.

This is how I use the product. I massage a drop of the oil on both sides of the front of my hair line. Not into the hair but on the bare skin. You cannot over do it but a drop on the front left and right of existing hair is sufficient. If you have a bald or thinning area I would apply a drop per two square inches depending on how large the spot is. It does no good or harm to get oil on the hair itself. The oil needs to be absorbed into the clear skin areas. The oil soaks into skin very quickly, hair just gets in the way of absorption. If you use a drop or two a day the 2 ounce bottle should last about a year.

My Story

My name is Raun Stoltz. I found myself realizing that at the rate of the hair loss I was experiencing at this age of 70, it was not going to be long before I was as bald as my father and his 5 brothers. We are talking shiny bald with just a band of hair around the edges. I don't count myself as a vain person but if there was a way to stop the hair loss I would be in on it as long as it was safe and not too expensive. My barber mentioned something about essential oils having some success with this problem. This put me on a quest to come up with a formula that would really work at a fair price. The great company in the multi level essential oil business has to sell their oils at a much higher price so they can pay dozens of levels of distributors out of the gross profits. I needed a product that I could formulate to my specifications at a fair price. I found a source that I could trust their essential oil products at that fair price point. It only requires a drop of oil a day applied at the hair line. For bald or very thin hair areas use one drop per two square inches applied in the bald area. Not on the hair itself. The first thing you will notice is a reduced amount of hair loss. In time many report that new hair is coming in. Our product is a blend of four Pure Essential Organic Oils.
